

Community Room Policy

The Cynthia B. Fox Community Room and the small meeting room on the upper floor at the Sharon Public Library are general-purpose meeting rooms that are available for educational, recreational, and civic purposes provided that such use does not interfere with Library services or programs. Please be aware that these rooms do not offer complete privacy.

Sharon Public Library supports and endorses the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights, which states: "Libraries which maintain meeting spaces, exhibit space or other facilities open to the public should make them available on equal terms to all persons, regardless of their beliefs or affiliations."

The fact that an organization is permitted to meet at the library does not constitute an endorsement of the organization's beliefs by the library, its staff, its advisory board, or the Sharon Public Library.

Any group or individual reserving these rooms must conform to the following rules:

Use Requirements:

1. There is no charge for the use of the Community Room by non-profit organizations during Library open hours. Proof of non-profit status may be required. Individuals should contact the Library Director for approval.
2. All for-profit groups are required to pay a $50.00 fee per usage made payable to the Sharon Public Library.
3. Outside groups (non-library associated groups) reserving the room cannot charge admission fees. No donations of money or other property may be solicited or collected from the audience. Groups may not promote sales of services, products, merchandise, materials, or other items.

A commercial entity or professional practitioner may use a library meeting room to provide an educational program open to the general public related to his or her field of expertise. During such a program, no attempt may be made to sell (at the time of the program or in the future) a product or service offered by the entity or practitioner or any other commercial interest. Therefore, the individual or entity offering the program may not hand out business cards or brochures promoting any business, product, or service and may not solicit personal information (names, addresses, phone numbers, etc.) from the attendees, either as part of a pre-registration process or during the program itself.

*This policy does not apply to artwork exhibited in the Community Room.

4. Outside groups reserving the Community Room may not proselytize, recruit or promote within the library or on library grounds.
5. The Friends of the Library or Library Foundation are authorized, upon approval from the Library Director to fundraise for library-related needs.

8. For meeting room use after Library hours, approval and pre-arrangement must be made with the Library Director and custodian. A custodial fee shall apply in accordance with the current contract at (time and one half) for a three (3) hour minimum. The custodian has the right to accept or deny the request. If the custodian is not available, the DPW will try to find coverage, but it is not guaranteed.
9. Light refreshments may be served, but groups may not prepare food on Library property. Groups are responsible for cleanup. Outside groups, (non-library associated groups) may not serve alcoholic beverages.
10. Tables and chairs and some other equipment are available. The group is responsible for setting up, rearranging, and taking down tables and chairs. Meeting rooms must be left clean, in good repair, and in the same condition as found. Any group that damages library property will be liable for costs incurred in connection with such damage and may lose the privilege of using meeting rooms in the future.

Solicitation of Signatures in Public Places - Municipal Property

- In the case of Batchelder V. Allied Stores International, Inc. the Supreme Judicial Court held that Article 9 of the Massachusetts Constitution protects the right to solicit signatures and to distribute related printed material, in the common areas of privately owned shopping centers, subject to reasonable regulations. At least the same amount of protection must apply to municipal property that is regularly open to the general public for municipal business. Therefore, ballot access and nomination paper signature solicitation must be allowed on municipal property that is regularly open to the general public for municipal business, subject only to reasonable time, place, and manner regulations. The Library Community Room on the lower floor is an allowable space to solicit signatures in the library and to distribute related printed material.

How to Reserve a Meeting Room

All groups/individuals must complete the Community Room Reservation Form, after reading this policy.

Application forms are available through the Sharon Public Library Website. Call the Library if you need assistance.

Once your reservation is approved by the Library Director or designee, it will appear on the library website calendar of events.
